I Browse Through a Famous Old Almanac

Tuesday Pod Rogers and I drove to Texarkana to buy an extra desk and a couple of chairs for the newspaper office Tuesday.

Noon found us in a seed store where Pod was trying to find cotton seed to set up decorative plants for his yard. No cotton seed at any of the stores—so he settled for sunflower seed.

Meanwhile at one of the stores I latched onto a famous oldtime almanac—Trail Blazers' Almanac and Pioneer Guide Book. It was new to me, but Pod said it was old when he was a mere boy. The editorial flag announces that it is published at Kewanee, Ill., with a circulation of 1,100,000.

Most of the almanacs that were around when I was a boy in Pennsylvania had a hard core of fanciful weather forecasts, surrounded by a welter of little-known facts that reminded you of an encyclopedia.

The run-of-the-mill almanac would hazard a guess that next Fourth of July would be fair, but there would be rain on Labor Day. As a boy I thought such genius should be working for the federal Weather Bureau—which is only half right on figuring what's going to happen next week, let alone trying to guess about three months from now.

Trail Blazers' Almanac is conservative on the weather business, restricting its comment to one paragraph for each month. That alone tells me this is a book put out by old men wise in experience. The less you say about the weather the less chance you stand of being corrected.

Group Okays $2.20 Hour Minimum Wage

WASHINGTON (AP) — With no opposition from Republican members, the Senate Labor subcommittee has approved a bill providing a $2.20-per-hour minimum wage, higher than the Nixon administration wants.

The subcommittee sent the bill to the Labor Committee Tuesday without a dissenting vote.

Death Claims W.C. Allsopp

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — William C. Allsopp, 79, of Little Rock, former business manager of the Arkansas Gazette, died Tuesday.

Allsopp succeeded his father as business manager in 1946. He retired two years later.

For several years, Allsopp was a director of Worthen Bank and Trust Co. of Little Rock. He was former president of the Country Club of Little Rock and was a member of the Arkansas Territorial Capitol Restoration Commission.

He was believed to have been the oldest living football letterman from what is now Arkansas State University.

Action May Force Profit Margin Back

WASHINGTON (AP) — Both price rollbacks and court actions may face up to 20 per cent of the nation's largest businesses for failing to hold down profit margins, says Donald Rumsfeld, director of the Cost of Living Council.

Rumsfeld said Tuesday that preliminary studies of 105 quarterly reports have shown 24 companies had apparently illegal profit margins.

The Price Commission limits profit margins to a percentage of each sales dollar. This percentage must not exceed the average that prevailed during the best two of the previous three fiscal years.

Rumsfeld, speaking before the National Fuel Oil Institute, warned businessmen to keep an eye on profits.

Suit Questions Tax-exempt Status of Act 9 Plants

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Pulaski County School Board voted Tuesday night to allow its attorney to file suit in an attempt to remove the tax-exempt status of industrial plants financed by Act 9 bonds unless industries agree to make payments to the district in lieu of taxes.

The board authorized John I. Purtle, its attorney, to file suit within 30 days if negotiations with industries failed to produce satisfactory results.

Representatives of the school board have been meeting with representatives of the industries for more than a year in an effort to get the industries to make payments to the district.

Purtle said the question of taxation was not really at issue in the test suit filed several years ago to challenge the legality of Act 9 of 1960. The state Supreme Court ruled in that case that the act was constitutional.

However, Purtle said, court cases since have held that property would not be tax-exempt unless it was used exclusively for public purposes.

"To hold that these plants are exclusively used for public purposes would stretch one's imagination almost to the breaking point," Purtle said. "I have serious doubts that the courts would hold to such a theory today."

The motion by board member Roy D. Smith authorized Purtle to name the city of Little Rock and other suitable defendants in a suit if negotiations failed.

Purtle said "a powerful lot of damage could be done to the state of Arkansas if we are successful in the suit. I hate to do it."

However, he and the board agreed that negotiations with the industries thus far have been fruitless. The board has taken issue with the right of the city of Little Rock to sell bonds to finance Act 9 industries when the industries are located in the county school district. Patrons of the district, the board has argued, have no chance to vote on such industries.

Prison Strike Ends

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP) — Inmates at the Federal Correctional Institution called off their "no-eat, no work" strike early Wednesday, officials said.

A prison official made the announcement, but declined further comment.

A spokesman had said earlier that "some progress" was being made toward ending the strike.

Warden L.M. Connett said officials met with a "cross-section" of the inmate population of 550 inmates, but he declined to reveal what was discussed.

About 500 inmates went on strike Sunday morning after complaining that a story published by the Texarkana Gazette on March 26 on the institution's rehabilitation program was false. They charged that they were not interviewed by reporters, and also criticized the institution's educational program, medical and dental care, and the Bureau of Prison's policies.

Connett said a "response to the issues is being drafted."

Twelve inmates were shipped to other facilities Tuesday morning, Connett said, in an attempt "to return the institution to normal operation."

City Issues Statement of Policy on Working Blacks

At its regular meeting last night the City Board of Directors issued a statement on working blacks, annexed an area and heard proposals for more annexations.

An ordinance was passed completing the annexation of approximately 80 acres of land lying south of 16th Street. The property, known as the Lemley property, is scheduled for development as a residential sub-division, with a small part being reserved for commercial development. The developers have been working with the Planning & Zoning Commission for over two years and have employed professional planners to assist them in laying out plans that will provide the best use of the property.

They also approved preliminary plans of two other proposed sub-divisions. One is an extension of Westwood Addition to the south and east sides of the present sub-division. The other plan was of property lying east of Highway 4 and south of Interstate 30 which is being planned for industrial and commercial use. The plans presented show location of all utilities, streets and drainage. Final approval of the sub-division will be made when all the scheduled improvements have been completed.

At a meeting on March 28 the Directors had discussed a petition containing four requests to the city concerning the employment of black people in skilled and semi-skilled positions of the city organizations. The same request had been sent to Hempstead County and to the First National and Citizens National banks of Hope. Following the discussion on March 28, the City Directors asked that a statement of policy, following the general agreement they had reached on the four

Jaycees to Organize

Young men of Hope between the ages of 21-36 are urged to attend an organizational meeting of the Hope Jaycees to be held Thursday night, April 13, at the Diamond Cafe at 7:00 p.m.

Tom Cabaniss, president of the Texarkana Jaycees said, "The city of Hope is the largest in Arkansas without a Jaycee chapter; therefore, the Texarkana Jaycees have undertaken the extension of a local chapter in Hope. Our motto is 'Leadership Training through Community Development' and we feel the Jaycees have much to offer both the young men of Hope and the community."

Cabaniss also added that several Jaycees from Texarkana and Nashville including ex-Hope residents Joe Polk, Larry Browning, and David Porterfield will be on hand to discuss the aims and purposes of the Jaycees.

Thursday night's meeting will be the 2nd in a series of four meetings to be held in a two week period to organize a Jaycee Chapter in Hope. All young men between the ages of 21 and 36 are urged to be in attendance Thursday night at 7:00 p.m. at the Diamond Cafe.

One Front Stabilized, New Push Poses Threat

By GEORGE ESPER

Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese troops attacked from both sides of Highway 13 north of Saigon today and stopped a South Vietnamese relief force about 15 miles from the threatened provincial capital of An Loc.

A substantial increase in enemy activity was reported in the An Loc region as the Communist offensive ended its second week.

Hard fighting in southern Cambodia just across the Vietnamese border also raised the threat that the enemy offensive might be extended to the southwestern Mekong Delta, a sector that has escaped the onslaught of attacks by North Vietnamese army regulars so far. Action in the delta has been limited to an increase in small hit-and-run attacks by Viet Cong units.

Heavy action also was reported

More Troops Returning

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command announced today the cut of 640 more troops from American forces in South Vietnam, including a helicopter unit with 30 aircraft.

The latest units phased out included Troop D, 7th Squadron, 17th Cavalry, a helicopter unit, and its headquarters based at Lane Army Airfield near Qui Nhon on the central coast. The other units were military police, transportation and headquarters companies.

U.S. officials have insisted that despite the current North Vietnamese offensive, American troop strength in Vietnam will be cut to 69,000 by May 1 to meet President Nixon's timetable. The last official report put U.S. troop strength at 90,000 last Thursday.

Some 30,000 more airmen are based in Thailand and between 18,000 and 20,000 men of the 7th Fleet are operating off the coast of Vietnam, engaged in air and gunfire operations in support of the South Vietnamese.

ed in the central highlands and to the east along the central coastal plain. The Saigon command said North Vietnamese troops shelled nine government positions, including Dak To and Tan Canh.

On the northern front below the demilitarized zone, sources said the South Vietnamese had taken the initiative and were carrying the fight to the North Vietnamese. But there was no report yet of a drive to retake the 10 miles of territory north of the Dong Ha River which was lost in the first three days of the Communist attack.

Associated Press newsmen Lynn C. Newland was with the South Vietnamese relief force on Highway 13 and reported an armored column and a column of paratroopers were hit simultaneously with barrages of fire just north of the district town of Chon Thanh, 15 miles south of An Loc.

The two columns were about a mile apart, and the commander of the rear column radioed to the lead group to pull back for a consolidation of forces. "We can't move," he was told.

Highway 13 also was cut south of Chon Thanh but later was reported passable.

U.S. and South Vietnamese fighter-bombers raked both sides of the highway.

The South Vietnamese force was hit Tuesday night by a heavy mortar and ground attack that killed 12 soldiers, wounded 22 and knocked out two tanks and an armored personnel carrier. Three U.S. advisers were also wounded, the U.S. Command said.

GIs Balk at Assignment But Relent, Carry Out Orders

PHU BAI, Vietnam (AP) — About 100 American soldiers from one of the last two combat infantry brigades in Vietnam balked at being assigned to man a forward defense position today because they considered it too dangerous.

They finally relented, but 45 of them carried out the order only after they were told their absence would endanger another U.S. unit already in the area, one of the men said. He said the reluctant troops felt the path they had to take to get to the position was loaded with booby traps.

In Saigon, the U.S. Command said none of the soldiers actually refused to go into the field or failed to obey orders of their officers and noncommissioned officers.

"The soldiers are presently occupying the originally planned defensive position in the vicinity of Phu Bai," the command said in a statement. "The element is part of a 600-man task force moved into Phu Bai yesterday for the purpose of securing U.S. troops and installations in the Phu Bai area."

Phu Bai is just south of Hue, the presumed major target of the current North Vietnamese offensive. The base is 57 miles south of the demilitarized zone.

The men were from Charlie Company, 2nd Battalion, 1st Infantry, 196th Brigade, and were transferred Tuesday from the Da Nang region to increase the protection of U.S. installations threatened by the North Vietnamese offensive. The 196th Brigade is one of the two U.S. combat units still in Vietnam.

When the men arrived from Da Nang by transport plane, they were ordered into trucks to be taken near the area they were to patrol, about three miles west of Phu Bai.

The troops would not move. A lieutenant asked for volunteers, and a handful got aboard the trucks. Then a captain and senior noncommissioned officers talked to the men, and within an hour all of them got aboard except one platoon of approximately 45 men.

Lt. Col. Frederick P. Mitchell, the commander of battalion, told them to get aboard the trucks and they would be taken to the U.S. compound near the air base. He apparently wanted to get them away from news-men who had covered their arrival.

Some 100 schools in Arkansas will be represented by 325 delegates and advisers. Cross Country High School will preside as president of the association.

Word of Loan Received

Third district Congressman John Hammerschmidt received notification of a loan in the amount of $1,720,000 from the Rural Electrification Association to the Southwest Arkansas Electrical Cooperative. The money is to finance 65 miles of distribution lines serving 765 consumers and will include a new substation at DeQueen. Other system improvements will be included.

The new service will effect the following counties in Arkansas: Miller, Columbia, LaFayette, Hempstead, Howard, Little River, Polk, and Sevier.

Minor Picked Up

State Police report the arrest of a minor for drunken driving Tuesday night on Highway 19 South after the pick up he was driving ran off the road into a ditch. No injuries were reported.

Mitchell turned to the news-men and said: "All you press are bastards. I blame you for this and you can quote me on it."

The men got aboard the trucks and were then taken to the compound. There all of the company except the one platoon piled aboard trucks to go to their forward position.

Hope Host to State Student Council Meet

The Arkansas Association of Student Councils will hold its thirty-third annual convention April 13, 14, and 15. The meeting will be hosted by Hope, this years secretary.

The theme for the weekend will be "What the World Needs Now". This theme will be followed up by discussion groups dealing with local, state, and federal commitments. In the second general assembly keynote speaker, Brigadier General Daniel (Chappy) Jones, will deliver a message on patriotism in America.

Other general assemblies will deal with roll call, political rallies, and elections. The third general assembly will include a panel discussion of foreign exchange students representing the American Field Service.

Social activities will include a Southwest Arkansas barbecue, a mixer to the theme of American Bandstand 1960, and a banquet Friday night followed by music presented by the Saint James Group.

Some 100 schools in Arkansas will be represented by 325 delegates and advisers. Cross Country High School will preside as president of the association.

French Urge Revival of the Peace Talks

PARIS (AP) — The French government urged today that the Vietnam peace conference resume without delay to reach a political solution to the conflict.

Its appeal came after the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong demanded that the peace talks resume Thursday. In similar notes to the United States delegation to the peace talks, the Communists also insisted that Washington halt the bombing of North Vietnam.

The South Vietnamese delegation apparently acting in coordination with the American delegation rejected the Communist demand for a new meeting Thursday. A South Vietnamese spokesman said the U.S. delegation would also refuse to meet.

In one of its rare public interventions into progress of the conference, to which it has been host for nearly four years, the French government "expressed the wish that the Paris conference resume its work without delay in order to reach a settlement which assures the security and independence of the Vietnamese populations."

The statement, issued after a Cabinet meeting with President George Pompidou, also said "The French government is more than ever convinced that the conflict must have a political solution and that such a solution remains possible."

The French move followed by five days a request by North Vietnam that France intervene with the United States to halt the bombing of the North. Cabinet spokesman Leo Hamon would not make it clear whether the North Vietnamese note had led to the Cabinet statement.

The United States and South Vietnam have insisted that the talks cannot resume under military pressure from the Communists.

The United States suspended the conference indefinitely March 23, claiming the Communists were not negotiating seriously and called on them to "engage in meaningful exchanges." The United States said it would watch for signs that the Communists would meet its requirements for further talks.

Will Try to Block Nomination

By TOM SEPPY
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., says he will try to block the nomination of Richard G. Kleindienst as attorney general unless White House aides, particularly Peter Flanagan, are allowed to testify in the Senate Judiciary Committee's ITT investigation.

Ervin, a committee member said in an interview: "I'm adamantly opposed to either the committee or the Senate taking any action whatsoever until these aides appear before the committee."

No Decision Reached

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Arkansas delegation met behind closed doors with members of their congressional delegation here Tuesday to discuss ways of getting federal financing for improvement of a major state highway.

Ervin, regarded as an authority on constitutional law, said the Nixon administration claim that executive privilege covers communication between aides and people outside the White House is absurd.

Executive privilege is the doctrine the Nixon administration claims bars Congress from forcing executive-branch officials and aides to testify.

The Arkansas group consisted of state legislators and citizens. A congressional aide who attended the meeting said no decision was reached on what course to follow. He characterized the talks as "exploratory."

The nearly 20 members of the group are pushing for federal funds to help widen and improve U. S. 65 from Eudora through Little Rock to Harrison. The road currently is four lane in parts.

Ervin said he recognizes the need for executive privilege when it involves communication between White House aides and the president or between administration officials formulating policy.

There is no justification whatsoever that executive privilege designed to protect the president has any weight with other employees and third persons dealing with matters of public record such as antitrust cases," said Ervin.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright and Reps. Wilbur Mills and John Paul Hammerschmidt attended the meeting. Sen. John L. Stennis and Rep. David Pryor also were present. Alexander sent representatives to the meeting.

Ronald L. Ziegler, President Nixon's press secretary, repeated Tuesday that "I don't contemplate Mr. Flanagan testifying." He applied the same statement to White House aide William Timmons, another Nixon aide listed as a potential witness.

Kleindienst asked the Judiciary Committee to reopen hearings on his nomination to be attorney general after Communist Jack Anderson published an International Telegraph & Telephone Corp. memo

Warm, Humid Weather

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Warm, humid weather was to continue across Arkansas today, but the National Weather Service said part of the state may get some relief tonight in the form of showers and thundershowers.

A deepening low pressure storm center in the eastern Rockies this morning was causing winds aloft to turn to the southwest, and as the system moves toward the east, the Weather Service said, there is a good chance of shower development in Arkansas tonight and Thursday.

Temperatures were quite warm early today with readings mostly in the 60s and low 70s.

The low at Little Rock was 72 degrees — a new record for the warmest minimum temperature for April 12. The old record, 69 degrees, was set in 1903.

Continued warm weather is forecast, the Weather Service said. Considerable cloudiness will prevail today, but afternoon temperatures will still climb into the 70s and low 80s by this afternoon. Lows tonight are expected to range in the 60s and low 70s again.

Little change in temperatures is likely Thursday, except in areas where showers develop where it will be a few degrees cooler.

Highs Tuesday climbed to the upper 70s and mid 80s in the state. Texarkana reported 85 degrees for the warmest spot in the state. The mercury soared into the mid 90s over eastern Oklahoma.

Overnight lows included 71 at Fayetteville, 70 at Harrison, 69 at Jonesboro, 70 at Pine Bluff, 70 at Texarkana, 70 at El Dorado, 69 at Memphis, 71 at Little Rock and 60 at Fort Smith.

Precipitation reported during the 24-hour period ending at 6 a.m. today included a trace at Little Rock.

Certificate Revoked

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The certificate of authority of Cliff Packer Mortgage Loan Co. of Benton was revoked Tuesday by state Securities Commissioner John S. Selig.

The commissioner said in an order that the company was not presently engaged in the business of a mortgage loan company and did not meet the necessary net capital requirements set by law for mortgage loan companies.

The firm received its certificate to do business as a mortgage loan company Aug. 21, 1971. Selig said he had directed the company to appear at a public hearing Monday to determine whether the certificate should be revoked, but he said the company did not appear at the hearing.

The committee voted last Friday to expand the investigation to include Life magazine allegations that the Justice Department had obstructed justice in southern California when Kleindienst was deputy attorney general.

The outlook is less optimistic around An Loc, the beleaguered provincial capital 60 miles north of Saigon, although many U.S. officials are convinced the heavily reinforced government troops will be able to contain further southward thrusts by the North Vietnamese.

The firm received its certificate to do business as a mortgage loan company Aug. 21, 1971. Selig said he had directed the company to appear at a public hearing Monday to determine whether the certificate should be revoked, but he said the company did not appear at the hearing.

In the central highlands, where some U.S. officials think the ultimate test of the enemy's offensive will come, battlefield activity has increased measurably in the last few days. And South Vietnamese forces claimed 251 enemy killed Tuesday near Kompong Trach, in Cambodia adjacent to the Mekong Delta region of South Vietnam.

Some enemy units have gone around the end trying to reach Quang Tri City from the southwest. But except for one foray that penetrated to within a mile of the city and then was halted, Quang Tri has not been seriously threatened.

"At the present time, we believe that the threat to both Quang Tri and Hue has diminished considerably," said one U.S. military source.

This is attributed primarily to the enemy's casualties and his loss of more than 100 tanks, the source said.

Critizes Opponent

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Bill Thompson of Fort Smith criticized Tuesday Jim Guy Tucker of Little Rock for Tucker's proposal to give the state attorney general power to call grand jury investigations.

Thompson and Tucker, both prosecuting attorneys, are candidates for the Democratic nomination for attorney general in the May 30 primary.

When he announced for the office, Tucker said he, as attorney general, would suggest that the legislature consider a bill that would give the attorney general authority to call a grand jury investigation in any county "when appropriate."

Thompson said he would oppose such a move. "It would be a serious infringement on personal rights for state government to go into local communities and usurp the power of local prosecutors and grand juries," Thompson said in a talk to the North Little Rock Rotary Club. "This much power — and I think it would be too much power — concentrated in the hands of one man would be dangerous."

Sees Shift in Favor of Allies

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. military analysts think the next few days may see a clear shift in favor of South Vietnamese forces in Quang Tri province, just below the demilitarized zone.

a loss sources in Saigon say has been verified.

Bad weather has cut tactical bombing 15 to 25 per cent during the last four days. But sources say there is no evidence that the North Vietnamese have been making a major effort to move supplies across the DMZ under cover of the weather.

Hope and Hempstead County. The statement said that the Directors unanimously agreed that black citizens are entitled to equitable and fair employment. They also agreed with the request of the committee that this should not be taken or appeasement employment, but that due recognition be given to any black applicant who was qualified to fit into positions requiring some degree of skill. The Directors stated that a policy of having a system of formal applications would be instituted, and that an interview record established for use in evaluating the applicants.

They also expressed their appreciation of the effort that black leaders have put forth in dealing with this problem and that they are intensely interested in working toward a good, sound solution of the problem. The statement also pointed out that any sound solution would have to be the result of people from both sides of the question working together in good faith.

In other action, the Board of Directors appointed Winston Davidson and Pat Faris to positions on the Citizens Advisory Committee. This is a committee of 15 people, including both black and white, who have been serving in an advisory capacity for the past several years. The group studies community problems and offer their suggestions to the City Officials toward improvement of the community.

The statement also pointed out that any sound solution would have to be the result of people from both sides of the question working together in good faith.

Thompson said he would oppose such a move. "It would be a serious infringement on personal rights for state government to go into local communities and usurp the power of local prosecutors and grand juries," Thompson said in a talk to the North Little Rock Rotary Club. "This much power — and I think it would be too much power — concentrated in the hands of one man would be dangerous."

China Team Visit to Mark New Relations

DETROIT (AP) — Returning a visit that heralded a new era in U.S.-China relations, the Chinese table tennis team arrives here today on the first leg of a two-week tour of the United States.

The 14 members of the Chinese team and a like number of newsmen, officials and translators are returning the visit U.S. Table Tennis Association (USTTA) players paid the Chinese last year.

The team's stop here is the first in the United States after a 10-day tour of Canada.

The team is headed by Chuang Tse-tung, three times table tennis champion of the world.

An advance party for the team arrived in Detroit from New York on Tuesday. It included Kao Liang, first secretary of China's delegation to the United Nations; second secretary Li Wen-chuan; two reporters from the Chinese news agency Shin Hua; a doctor and two secretaries.

Few uniformed police were in evidence when the advance party arrived. A Detroit police spokesman said protection is being provided by the Detroit Police Department, Wayne County Sheriff's Department, Michigan State Police and special agents from the State Department.

At their hotel, the Chinese visitors returned nods, smiles and handshakes with spectators.

"The delegates were very pleased," said one press aide. "They smiled, and said they thought it was nice."

The group left orders not to be disturbed after 10 p.m. "They're tired and a little bit tense," said a press aide.

"They're not really sure what's going to happen and they want a chance to calm down and relax."

The Chinese go on to Ann Arbor, Mich., Friday; Williamsburg, Va., April 16; Washington, D.C., April 17-18; New York, April 19-21; Memphis, April 22; and Los Angeles on April 24.

Winners Announced

NEW YORK (AP) — National Book Awards will be presented Thursday for works including Flannery O'Connor's "The Complete Stories," Joseph P. Lash's biographical "Eleanor and Franklin" and "The Last Whole Earth Catalogue."

Winners of the annual awards for the most distinguished books by American authors published during the preceding year were announced Tuesday by John C. Franz, chief executive of the National Book Committee.

This year the committee added a 10th category, contemporary affairs; waived a rule barring books of authors dead more than two years and named separate winners in biography and history.

Flannery O'Connor, who died in 1964, was the unanimous selection for the 23rd annual fiction award for her stories portraying life in the South.

The history prize went to Alan Nevins, the late Columbia University professor, for the two concluding volumes of his eight-volume "The War for the Union."

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — A hand-somely mounted special Tuesday night marked the Yellowstone National Park's centennial.

For the vacation minded, NBC also crammed the hour with a look at other national parks and historic sites, but the program also had a message: Our national parks are running into ecological and pollution problems and have trouble with litterbugs as more tourists flock into them each year.

It was an excellent program on the whole. There were some awkward moments with—to get a little pure entertainment into the hour—the singing Fifth Dimension performing in a boat. Worst was a comedy sketch by Jonathan Winters, playing a one-man ecological disaster and doing it very well until he was interrupted by disconcerting ghostly giggles from an unseen audience. It ruined the sketch.

The three major television networks seem even more reluctant to confide to viewers their summer plans than they were to come out with their plans for next fall.

We will be treated to an exceptionally heavy diet of reruns from now on, of course. There will be repeat broadcasts of most series programs seen earlier this season. NBC has already starting filling a Tuesday night time block with programs which were used as parts of assorted anthology series of several years ago.

ABC, starting Wednesday, is returning Henry Fonda's "Smith Family" to complete its interrupted season. It is also launching the British comedian, Marty Feldman, in his own series. In tandem they will take over an hour recently used for comedy specials.

CBS has signed four performers for five programs each, which will be used to give "The Carol Burnett Show" a 10-week vacation and fill "The Glen Campbell Show" until September.

JUDY LYANN HUGHES

Mr. and Mrs. James F. Hughes of Taylor, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Judy Lyann of Hope, to Charles E. McIlwain, also of Hope.

He presently is Territory Manager for John Deere Co. and is headquartered in Hope. The wedding will be an event of May 13 at 8 o'clock in the evening in the First Baptist Church of Taylor with Rev. Gordon Renshaw of Hope officiating. All friends and relatives of the couple are invited to attend the ceremony and reception to follow in the church Fellowship Hall. No cards will be sent.

Thief Returns Stolen Goods

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Someone broke into the gymnasium of Thomas Jefferson High School and took several items, including a record player and $10.40 in cash, school officials told police.

But they reported finding the items later Monday in a cardboard box in the school's east wing.

On top of the box was the $10.40 in an envelope, which bore this message:

"Sorry about this, but God made me bring it back." It was signed, "X-Thief."

Oldtimers Would Have Snorted at Viruses

By ROBERT E. FORD
Associated Press Writer
DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — A piece in the paper the other day said some researchers believe that all of man's illnesses may be caused by viruses.

These squiggly little things may be the cause of such problems as strokes, heart attacks, cancer, arthritis, diabetes and others.

Any real old-timer would have snorted at such fancy ideas. Why, he didn't even believe in germs, which was the popular word back before doctors invented viruses.

One of the more graphic demonstrations of the total absence of germs occurred some years ago when a young college student of our acquaintance warned her coughing grandpa to stop it because he was spreading germs.

The old-timer straightened up from his spasm and glared at his granddaughter.

Then he started stomping angrily around the room, punching out with his index finger, shouting at her: "Is that one? Did I punch one of them with my finger? Where is a germ? Show me one!"

Which certainly convinced her that the germ theory of disease, as it was called then, was a phony theory—at least she didn't say anything about it any more in the presence of grandpa.

Old-timers in the frontier and semfrontier West may not have believed in germs but they had cures for every ailment known to man or beast.

A doctor was several hours away by wagon or buggy from most farms and ranches, so you cured yourself—or your mother forced a cure down your throat.

Preventive medical measures were the key to health on the frontier.

In too many cases, as far as young people were concerned, this prevention consisted of occasional purges—calomel, castor oil and certain patented drugs—when there absolutely was no need of such treatment.

Whether these measures really helped is questionable. But at least they had a psychological effect and nature herself is a great doctor, anyway, and probably affected cures despite frontier medicine's interference.

Hawks Are Biding Time

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Black Hawks are biding their time in the Stanley Cup Playoffs, but they're also aroused over National Hockey League rules concerning the curvature of sticks.

The Hawks met with Alan Eagleson Tuesday to iron out their differences over league rules concerning stick curvature.

Eagleson, counsel for the players' association, took a vote and found the Hawks unanimously in favor of going against the league unless they had a voice in matters concerning equipment.

The Hawks would like to get the rest of the league to agree with them that players should have a voice in any change in equipment rules.

Before the start of the current playoffs the league ruled that the curvature of a hockey stick blade should not exceed one-half inch. The league went so far as to inspect individual sticks to make sure they were legal.

Twice the Hawks were burned. First, the league ruled against the stick used by Pat Stapleton, Chicago defenseman. Then, in the second game of the playoffs against Pittsburgh, the NHL ruled Dennis Hull's stick was illegal.

If Eagleson can get the other clubs to go along with the Hawks, there might be a strike in the Stanley Cup playoffs.

Eagleson and the Hawks claim the league has no right to make a change in the rules concerning the curvature of the sticks without consulting the players.

Eagleson said after returning to Toronto that he polled the Boston Bruins' players who held a meeting before their Tuesday night game against the Toronto Maple Leafs, and they rejected the Chicago strike move.

Eagleson said the Bruins voted 10-8 against strike action and 15-3 against a Chicago proposal that the maximum curvature of sticks be increased.

The Toronto lawyer said the Bruins voted in favor of a proposal that Eagleson "berate the owners" for setting up the stick curvature in the playoffs without the approval of the players.

DINAH SHORE checks out the Mission Hills Course in Palm Springs, Calif., as she prepares to host the Dinah Shore-Colgate Winners Circle Golf Tournament, the richest event on the women's pro golf tour, with a record first prize of $20,000. The tournament opens April 12.

No Baseball Money

MIAMI BEACH (AP) — While major league baseball players strike for bigger pensions, Hall of Famer Max Carey just keeps hoping the mailman will show up with a check—for any amount.

"I hope the players association decides to cut in the members of the Hall of Fame," says Carey. "After all, only about 30 of us are still living."

Max is 82. He and Mrs. Carey live in a 38-year-old house, existing mainly on the $200-a-month pension he receives from social security.

Baseball doesn't pay him a penny.

Carey was well-known in the 1920s when he was the National League's base-stealing champion. Fans would yell, "Go, Max, go," from Forbes Field in Pittsburgh to Ebbets Field in Brooklyn.

Max was the National League's leading base stealer 10 times.

In 1969, Carey received the highest honor available to a baseball player—induction into the Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, N.Y.

Still, not a penny of pension money.

Carey's 20-year career ended long before sports attorneys drew up pension plans that allow today's players to collect at least $2,000 at age 65.

Carey now sits around his home, dreaming up possible ways to funnel more than a half century of baseball knowledge into something that will hike his income.

Mostly, he finds that even baseball people will smile politely and then turn their backs on ideas created by Carey.

Players and Owners Still Deadlocked

NEW YORK (AP) — Striking baseball players and club owners remained deadlocked today solely over make-up salaries after reaching a pension settlement which could have prevented the 12-day-old walkout in the first place.

And at the heart of the lone remaining issue was a feeling among the players that the owners would try to cheat them salary-wise in rescheduling games lost to the strike, which has delayed the opening of the season more than a week.

With both sides making quick pitches throughout day-long meetings Tuesday and tossing—and rejecting—proposals and counter-proposals back and forth faster than an around-the-horn double play, this was the situation when matters ground to a halt in the wee hours this morning.

—Agreement was reached on allocating $500,000 a year from the pension plan's huge surplus for retirement benefits, in addition to the owners' original offer of $490,000 for health care on top of the $5.4 million they contribute annually to the pension package.

"If we had agreed on the $500,000 last week there would have been no strike," said Marvin Miller, executive director of the Major League Baseball Players Association. "That's probably true," countered John Gaherin, the owners' negotiator, "but $500,000 was not Mr. Miller's price for a settlement before the strike."

—The owners have offered to pay the players for lost games rescheduled on open dates or as part of a day-night doubleheader, but not for games made up as part of a one-admission doubleheader.

The players rejected that and countered by offering to give up one day's pay (they are paid on a basis of 182 days rather than 162 games). The owners turned that down. Next, the players offered to play make-up games in one-admission twin bills for half pay. The owners rejected that, too.

In San Diego, Buzzie Bavasi, president of the Padres, said the team's player representative, Bob Barton, "told me the players seemed to think that the owners would try to cheat them by making up all the lost games as parts of doubleheaders and I explained to him why that's a false assumption."

"As an owner, I can assure you that a club always makes more money by playing two single games than by playing a doubleheader. On two dates, you get extra revenue from parking, programs and concessions that you don't get playing a doubleheader."

Bavasi said that if clubs reduce the originally scheduled number of home dates by scheduling more doubleheaders, they'll have to return some money to season ticket-holders.

"We haven't lost any home dates yet," he said, "but the Dodgers, Giants, Cardinals, Mets and Cubs have. All of them have large season ticket sales and I know they'll try to make up lost games on off days rather than play doubleheaders. If the players go along with our proposal, which I believe is more than fair, I'm sure they'll make up all, or nearly all, of the money called for in their contracts."

Miller, however, said that wouldn't be equitable for all the players since some cities do better, say, with a Sunday doubleheader than Sunday-Monday single games. "Some players will lose money and some won't," he said.

"We want equity for all players."

Miller said he wasn't sure whether the 24 player representatives, who met for more than 15 hours Tuesday, would get together again today. He also said J. Curtis Counts, head of the Federal Mediation Service, was in town and he didn't rule out the possibility of further mediation efforts.

The owners, whose negotiating committee held several lengthy conference calls with Gaherin, scheduled a joint meeting of both leagues for Thursday in Chicago, ostensibly to iron out a new snag over the length of the season.

The Associated Press learned that National League owners want to play a full 162-game schedule while the American League, which has long been advocating a shorter season anyway, favors picking up whenever the strike is settled without making up any games.

Bucks Claim Erving

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Wayne Embry, general manager of the Milwaukee Bucks, said Tuesday night his team owned rights to Julius Erving even though the Atlanta Hawks said they have signed the American Basketball Association star.

"As far as the by-laws of the National Basketball Association go, the rights to Julius Erving belong to the Milwaukee Bucks—it's as clear cut as that," Embry said.

Embry spoke to the Milwaukee Sentinel in Los Angeles, where the Bucks meet the Lakers in their NBA playoff series tonight.

The Bucks picked Erving in the first round of the NBA draft Monday. But Tuesday, the Atlanta Journal reported the Hawks of the NBA had signed Erving Sunday for $2 million.

The Hawks confirmed the signing later Tuesday, but club president Bill Putnam said the contract will become valid only after Erving completes the final three years of his pact with the ABA's Virginia Squires.

Putnam said he did not believe Erving was subject to the NBA draft because he already was a professional, having given up his final year of eligibility at the University of Massachusetts a year ago to sign with Virginia. He led the ABA in scoring and was third in rebounding this year.

Swim Records Are Broken

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — Indiana University swimmers broke two American records in an exhibition swimming and diving meet against a touring Russian team Tuesday night.

Hoosiers Mark Spitz, Tom Hickcox, Gary Connelly and John Murphy swam the 200 freestyle relay in 1:23.6 to beat the former mark of 1:24.2 by the University of Tennessee.

Indiana was clocked at 1:33.5 in the 200 medley relay to erase the 1:35.7 record set by the Hinsdale, Ill., High School swim team.

In the medley relay, Mike Stamm swam the backstroke, Brock Ledewig the breaststroke, Spitz the butterfly and Connelly the freestyle.

Undergrads Won't Be Drafted by ABA

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Basketball Association, which signed several undergraduates following a secret draft last month, will not select undergraduates when it concludes the draft today, ABA Commissioner Jack Dolph has announced.

Each team was allowed to pick one undergraduate during the first five rounds on March 24 and could announce selections if they desired. The names of players chosen Wednesday will be made public.

The 11 teams will draft from the sixth round on by telephone to the league office, with teams selecting in reverse order of their league standing Feb. 20.

Memphis and Pittsburgh will alternate on the first selections with Memphis making the first pick in the sixth round and every even-numbered round.

The remaining order of selection will be: Carolina, Denver, the Floridians, New York, Dallas, Indiana, Virginia, Utah and Kentucky.

It was previously announced that the following agreements were signed before the conclusion of the college season: junior Jim Chones of Marquette with the New York Nets; sophomore Dave Brent of Jacksonville with the Memphis Pros, and senior Bill Franklin of Purdue with the Virginia Squires.

Most of the outstanding college players were drafted last month, with many of the names announced by the teams or leaked to newsmen.

Knicks Just Want to Celebrate

By BRUCE LOWITT

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — "Don't ask me about Boston—I don't even want to think about Boston right now," New York Coach Red Holzman said with a grin. "I just want to go out and have a couple of drinks and celebrate."

What Holzman and the rest of the Knicks had to celebrate was revenge—their 107-101 National Basketball Association victory Tuesday over Baltimore that knocked the Bullets out of the playoffs.

It sent the Knicks into the best-of-seven Eastern Conference finals starting Thursday night against the Celtics, who won the Atlantic Division title by eight games over New York, then ousted Atlanta in their semifinal series.

In the Western finals, the Los Angeles Lakers entertain Milwaukee tonight. The Bucks won the first game 93-72 at Los Angeles.

In the American Basketball Association playoffs, Denver is at Indiana Thursday night for the seventh and deciding game in their Western Division semifinals with the winner going on to face Utah. Also on Thursday night, the New York Nets oppose the Virginia Squires in Richmond, Va., in the first game of their best-of-seven Eastern finals.

"I think our defense did it for us in this game—just like our defense did it for us in the whole series," Knicks' center

Jerry Lucas said of the revenge victory.

A year ago it was the Bullets who did the celebrating after bumping the Knicks out of the playoffs. Then Baltimore ran into the Bucks, who breezed to a four-game sweep and the championship.

Except for a few moments in the fourth quarter, the Knicks were pretty much in command, forcing Baltimore to play catch-up virtually the entire game.

Streaks killed the Bullets. Outscoring them 14-2 in the first quarter, New York shot to a 24-12 lead. But Phil Chenier's jump shooting brought the Bullets back within eight points going into the second period.

Then, Archie Clark, the game's high scorer with 31 points, and Jack Marin helped Baltimore cut the New York margin to 48-44 at the half.

Trailing only 75-74 going into the final period, the Bullets pulled in front 93-88 with four minutes remaining.

Senior's Baccalaureate At Bethel Sunday

The congregation of Bethel A.M.E. Church will observe annual Baccalaureate occasion Sunday, April 16, at the 10:50 a.m. worship hour.

The senior high school students and their parents of Hope, Lincoln and Blevins High Schools are the occasion's honored guests.

The program is sponsored by the department of Christian Education of the church of which Daryle Muldrew, one of Hope High's seniors is Superintendent.

The department takes this position as follows:

That since our public school's calendar like many others over the nation no longer include Baccalaureate services; that a Baccalaureate emphasis is the expression of the christian church admonishing those persons, youth and-or adults who are ending one phase of life's concentration to fully accept Jesus Christ in their lives in order that future preparation, behavior and functions may reflect good moral character, genuine Religious integrity, economic stability, social adjustments and lasting spiritual principles; that in yesteryears the school sought and called in the church for this ministry and since the change has taken place it becomes the church's obligation, duty and responsibility to seek and call in the school for this important ministry.

The music department under the direction of Miss Brenda Wilson will feature the National Youth Hymn, "God of Our Fathers" by Roberts, and the Anthem, "A Mighty Fortress is Our God" by Luther.

The pastor, the Rev. W.G. Wynn will preach on the subject, "God's Design of the Human Mind."

Floyd Young will issue a specially prepared commentary to the seniors. Mr. Young is a member of the Hope City Board of Directors, Guidance Counselor at Hope High School, and is a deacon of the Rising Star Baptist Church.

A repast will be served all seniors at the adjournment of services.

On March 26, 1972, Palm Sunday was observed by the Heroines of Jericho from the states of Arkansas, Texas, and Louisiana at the Pine Hill Baptist Church, Pine Bluff.

The Court of Hope chartered a Trailways bus and welcomed many guests including young people.

They were welcomed to the city by the Honorable Austin T. Franks, Mayor of Pine Bluff who presented the golden key to the city to Lady Lena M. Tyus, Matron of the Affiliated Supreme Chapter O.E.S. Southern and Western Masonic Jurisdiction and Grand Matron of the State of Arkansas. He also presented her with a certificate making her an honorary citizen of the city of Pine Bluff.

Lady Tyus accepted the presentations with a short talk. Expressions from each state were made. Lady Captoria Smith of the Hope Court gave expressions for Arkansas. The sermon was delivered by Rev. J.T. Taylor, pastor of the host church.

Drug Abuse Found

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — A survey of junior high, senior high and college age youth in Southeast Arkansas has revealed that moderate abuse of marijuana and other drugs exists in the area, according to Clarence W. Perkins, administrator of the Southeast Arkansas Mental Health Center.

The survey was conducted by the center and Perkins distributed copies of the report to school and health officials in the area Tuesday.

While the survey showed moderate use of drugs present, it also revealed a heavy level of alcohol usage apparent in all age groups, Perkins said.

He said the findings were based on 6,746 questionnaire forms filled out by students between the seventh grade and college levels.

Perkins said the questionnaire was distributed in November and December of last year and was the most comprehensive ever taken in the state. He said the survey showed 50.5 per cent showed they used alcohol, 10.5 per cent said they used marijuana and 3.6 per cent indicated they used other forms of drugs.

Kissinger Postpones Visit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House says presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger has postponed a planned visit to Japan because of the latest crisis in Indochina.

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler noted that Dr. Kissinger is chairman of the Washington Special Action Group, a crisis-oriented committee that has been meeting almost daily since North Vietnamese troops charged across the demilitarized zone into South Vietnam two weeks ago.

Ziegler told newsmen Tuesday that the three-day trip originally scheduled to begin Saturday probably will be made early next month.

Attributes New Hanoi Weapons to Moscow

By LEWIS GULICK

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — To hear administration officials tell it, Moscow is a major contributor to Hanoi's new offensive because of its shipments of heavy arms to North Vietnam.

But a reading of U.S. intelligence estimates indicates that Soviet weapons help to North Vietnam actually is far smaller now than earlier in the war.

"Because words may be ambiguous and figures can be read different ways, it is difficult to pinpoint a contradiction. But since the Kremlin's aid flow has been going on for years, the administration's stressing it now is clearly a matter of choice."

In his State of the World message in February, President Nixon spoke of Hanoi's getting "nearly $1 billion" a year aid from her allies.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird, mentioning a $600-million figure, pointed last week to the Soviet Union as "the major supplier of the military arms and the munitions which are being used in North Vietnam."

Therefore, Laird concluded, Russia is "a major contributor to the continuing conflict that exists in Southeast Asia."

U.S. government sources, not allowing use of their agency name, issued to newsmen Tuesday figures which had been prepared within the intelligence community before Hanoi launched its offensive at the end of March.

The figures indicate that total Communist aid to North Vietnam in 1971 was about the same as the year before, as was the flow from Moscow, and that both were well below the peak reported before the United States halted its bombing of the North in 1968.

According to the U.S. intelligence estimates: Combined Soviet, Chinese and East European military and economic assistance to North Vietnam totaled $1.02 billion in 1967, $765 million in 1970, $775 million in 1971.

The Soviets shipped $505 million worth of arms to North Vietnam in 1967, $70 million in 1970 and $100 million in 1971. Russia's economic help amounted to $200 million in 1967, $345 million in 1970 and $315 million in 1971.

Administration spokesmen have been pointing to the Soviet aid, they say, because it is the largest outside support for North Vietnam's drive and because it includes sophisticated weapons used in the current conventional-style military assault.

Moscow has been supplying such items as surface-to-air missiles, tanks, heavy artillery and oil. Peking's weapons help features small arms and ammunition.

But administration officials say Washington has made no diplomatic bid to Moscow on curbing the arms flow. They catalogue the issue as one which Nixon likely will take up in Moscow next month under the heading of urging big-power restraint in troubled areas.

Before he left Virginia, doctors said Johnson was making "steady improvement."

On his arrival at the hospital here, the former chief executive, 63, stepped from a station wagon and walked slowly with doctors at his side to a waiting wheelchair a few steps away.

He was wearing a gray hat and a dark blue suit.

Connected to his chest with wires was a portable electrocardiogram oscilloscope, which monitors the heart. An aide carried the suitcase-like unit.

Mrs. Johnson arrived moments later and followed her husband to a seventh-floor penthouse suite.

Mrs. Johnson, wearing a long gray coat, also looked worn after the nearly five-hour plane trip from Charlottesville. They arrived at 1:55 a.m. EST.

Johnson was stricken while visiting his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Robb, in Charlottesville.

Neither Johnson nor his wife spoke to a half dozen newsmen awaiting them.

Johnson Back in Texas

By RICHARD BEENE

Associated Press Writer

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) —

Former President Lyndon B. Johnson, who had pressured his doctors to send him back to Texas, returned to his native state early today for more hospital care.

He looked tired, worn and pale when he arrived at the Army's Brooke General Hospital after a flight from Charlottesville, Va., where he suffered a major heart attack last Friday.

Warns of Raids to Free POWs

SAIGON (AP) — The chairman of the "Remember the Pueblo Committee" said today that unless President Nixon secures the release of some U.S. prisoners held by the Vietnamese Communists within 30 days, a brigade of American Vietnam veterans and foreign mercenaries will make raids on small P.O.W. camps to free prisoners.

The Rev. Paul Lindstrom told a newsman a force of 118 men—including 13 mercenaries from Britain, France and Belgium—is ready to go into action within four to six weeks of an order calling them together.

They include veterans of fighting in the Congo, Algeria and Malaya, he said.

Lindstrom said he has learned that 64 U.S. military personnel have been transferred from Communist custody in Laos to internment in China since October. Some are on a collective farm near the Laotian border, he said.

Lindstrom told The Associated Press that the Douglas MacArthur brigade, formed in January 1971, has drawn up plans to raid smaller prisoner of war camps.

He would not say precisely where these camps are but indicated most of them are in Laos.

He said his group has no plans to raid major POW camps or to make forays into China.

Lindstrom arrived in Saigon today from Bangkok, and said:

"We are, as of today, issuing an ultimatum to Mr. Nixon that either he secures the release of at least some prisoners or war in the next 30 days or we will do it ourselves."

Lindstrom, a nondenominational clergyman from Prospect Heights, Ill., said his force of 118 men, if formed into a combat group, would be commanded by one of the European mercenaries.

Agnew Thinks History of U.S. Being Warped

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew says reference-book editors and writers are increasingly biased and their work is threatening to warp American history for all time.

Agnew cited examples from the Encyclopedia Britannica and Collier's Encyclopedia as signs of what he termed a bias toward the new left.

"If biased segments of the news media can distort the view of the world in which we live," Agnew said, "it necessarily falls to the educational community, in pursuit of truth and fact, to assure that today's distortion is not perpetrated in tomorrow's history books."

Nevertheless, Agnew said, "politicized material is getting into standard works that teachers and parents rely on as general reference books for today's students."

He cited as examples two articles in the Collier's yearbook and Encyclopedia Britannica's alleged refusal to print a study by conservative scholar Ernest van den Haag.

The vice president took exception to Collier's reference to Nixon as "above all, a politician." The reference was in an article on the President's activities, including his role in the 1970 congressional elections.

Undersecretary Named

WASHINGTON (AP) — Draft Director Curtis W. Tarr has been named by President Nixon as an undersecretary of state to coordinate military aid.

Nixon made the announcement Tuesday.

Tarr, 47, took control of the Selective Service in 1970 after a three-year stint in the Defense Department as an assistant secretary of the Air Force.

He succeeded Lt. Gen. William B. Hershey, draft director for 28 years. At the time, Hershey was under heavy criticism for having labeled draft resisters as "shirkers" and "slackers."

Critics also attacked Hershey for sending a letter to draft boards suggesting immediate induction of all antiwar demonstrators.

Congress created the $40,000-year job that Tarr will take under a law passed in February.

No successor has been named for Tarr at Selective Service.

40 Cars in the '500'

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Forty cars have been entered in this year's Indianapolis 500-mile race, with about 25 more entries expected before the deadline at midnight Saturday.

The latest is three-time Indy winner A. J. Foyt Jr. of Houston, Tex., who entered two Coyote-Ford turbocharged racers Tuesday for the May 27 classic.

It was the 15th entry in the 500 for Foyt, the only man who has won the national driving championship five times.

ASHORE STROLLERS recalling some prominent African political couples are Japan's Emperor Hirohito and Empress Nagako. The royal pair was photographed on a visit to their new seaside villa, "Susako," 80 miles southwest of Tokyo.

BIG COVERUP is common clothing practice in northern China where winter has a way of being bitterly cold. A Peking lad peers out from between caps and hoods and the face mask many Chinese wear as protection against germs as well as cold of winter.

Tornado Alley Widens

KANSAS CITY (AP) — "Tornado Alley," once popularly thought to be a narrow strip confined to the heart of the Midwest, is actually more of a wide boulevard that sweeps northward to Minnesota and as far south as the Gulf of Mexico, weather records show.

Since 1953, when the National Severe Storms Forecast Center in Kansas City established the present tornado warning system, forecasters have produced figures that challenge Kansas' reputation as the "Cyclone State."

"The more we learn about tornadoes, the more we tend to move away from the 'Tornado Alley' concept," says Allen Pearson, director of the storms center. "There are all kinds of tornadoes and no real limit on where or when they might occur."

Both Texas and Oklahoma average more tornadoes per year than Kansas, the records show, and the most severe ones occur in four other areas—northern Mississippi, southern Illinois, eastern Arkansas and eastern Missouri.

Records for the 18 years through 1971 show that there were a total of 2,068 tornadoes in Texas, 1,131 in Oklahoma, 944 in Kansas, 637 in Nebraska, 561 in Missouri and 537 in Florida.

There were 292 tornado deaths in Mississippi during the period, 286 in Texas, 218 in Michigan, 147 in Indiana, 131 in Kansas and 127 in Oklahoma.

Forecasters say the real heart of tornado activity stretches from Oklahoma City, across southeast Kansas to Kansas City, Mo.; into western Arkansas and across Missouri to St. Louis.

A broader definition of the high-frequency area starts at San Antonio, Tex., goes as high as Fargo, N.D., and Minneapolis-St. Paul, then pushes through Michigan to the south and west of Chicago, including almost all of Indiana and Illinois. The wider area also includes east central Alabama and much of southwest Georgia, then doubles back along the Gulf Coast to Houston.

Arbor Day Observed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pat Nixon celebrated the 100th anniversary of Arbor Day by ceremonially planting a 12-foot-tall fern leaf beech tree on the White House lawn.

The new tree planted Monday was the first of a row of four fern leaf beeches. Two of them were planted 70 to 75 years ago, according to a White House gardener. A third was planted by former First Lady Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson on Arbor Day 1960.

During Monday's ceremony, Mrs. Nixon introduced to the gathering Mrs. Fredric Latner of Des Moines, Iowa, granddaughter of Arbor Day founder J. Sterling Morton.

Arbor Day was launched in 1872 in Nebraska by Morton, a member of the state's board of agriculture and a secretary of agriculture in the administration of Grover Cleveland.

Businessmen Fight for Dollar

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Over the years the banker, the broker, the mutual fund salesman and to some extent the insurance agent have fought for essentially the same dollar—the dollar that remains after the consumer pays for immediate needs.

Each has had considerable success, of course, because many Americans have discretionary income, or income that is not needed for food, clothing and shelter but which may instead be used for other and more distant goals.

But for reasons that seem to be ingrained in the American character, the salesman for each type of institution has found himself limited in that he cannot change consumer thinking sufficiently to substantially cut into the other's territory.

Insurance companies hope to cut into broker territory by offering variable annuities, whose return is pegged to the economy or the stock market rather than to a fixed amount, as has been traditional with insurers.

Brokerage houses are laying plans to sell life insurance. Banks offer life insurance and savings bonds in various combinations. And mutual funds offer plans that insure the return of investment.

It is the latter plan that seems likely to bridge the vast gap that exists between savers and investors, even though the initial response has been more encouraging than overwhelming during the first year.

The first plan was offered one year ago by Fairfield Fund in conjunction with Harleysville Mutual Insurance Co., insuring the investor for long-term losses of more than 10 years.

Included in the guarantee was the return not just of the initial value of shares, but also the cost of insurance premiums, sales commissions and administrative charges.

Since then four other funds have joined the market—Side Fund, Capital Trinity, Provident Fund for Income, and Alpha—but the reception has been encouraging rather than overwhelming, and whether it ever will be greater remains to be seen. The experience has been too limited.

Meanwhile, there are at least two considerations that should concern any wise investor: First, is the insurance desirable on the terms offered; second, is it needed at all?

Under the Harleysville plan the minimum cash investment is $3,000, the maximum $120,000. The term is 10 years or more. Premiums are deducted automatically from dividends and capital gains distributions. They amount to 6 per cent.

Why a minimum of 10 years? Why not five years, or even less? "Long-term" for tax purposes means six months or more, although this obviously cannot be the measure for insurance purposes.

Nevertheless, five years seems sufficient for a fund to prove itself.

Traffic Is Mess in Nation's Capital

By JANET STAIHAR
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Visitors to the nation's capital this summer had better bring plenty of patience and lots of shoe leather.

Traffic's a mess. Work on the city's Metro subway system has progressed to the point on some midtown streets that traffic moves with the speed of a stopped clock. Pedestrians move faster than motorists.

Visitors who don't know their way around could find the subway diggings enough to send the blood pressure soaring. The major thoroughfares for tourists—Constitution, Pennsylvania and Independence avenues—are generally free of subway construction but most of the downtown Washington area is torn up at this point.

One of the most difficult routes on foot or by car is Connecticut Avenue from Dupont Circle to one-half block from the White House. Connecticut runs right through the heart of the downtown area.

Other streets in the downtown area fare no better. Northwest G Street is torn up, 13th Street from F to H is no joy ride, and I Street off Connecticut is a mess.

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB

Too Many Prunes Aren't a Problem

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb — How many prunes a day are too many? I eat five or six every evening and need no laxative. Am I too dependent on prunes? I am 70, of normal weight, and in good health. How much water should the average person drink a day? Will your recommendation include or be in addition to coffee, fruit juices, etc.? I am a faithful reader of your column and think it is excellent.

A person's thirst is usually a pretty good guide as to how much water he should drink, unless he has a medical problem that suggests he should drink more or less. A person should drink about eight glasses of fluids a day, including fruit juices, other beverages, milk and water.

Dear Dr. Lamb — Have you ever heard of fibrous anemia (dry bones)? If so can you tell me the cause and cure?

Dear Reader — I suspect this term refers to loss of function of the bone marrow. Normally, the bone marrow manufactures blood cells. When anything happens to it so that it can no longer fill this function an anemia results.

Fortunately, this problem is relatively rare. It is more apt to occur in older people but it can occur following exposure to a variety of toxins (poisons) and even sometimes as a complication or toxic reaction to certain medicines.

Occasionally the spleen is a factor. A person with this type of problem needs a complete evaluation by a specialist in blood diseases—hematologist. In some instances, it can be certain that the spleen is a factor, surgery is indicated. In other instances, however, medicines and other medicines are helpful and sometimes it is necessary to provide blood transfusions.

Mills Speculates on Chances

By ROBERT SHAW
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Rep. Wilbur D. Mills will be in good position for the nomination of the Democratic presidential race continues to develop as it has, says the Arkansas congressman's public relations and advertising adviser.

Deloss Walker of West Memphis said the presidential primaries so far had demonstrated that the Miami convention could reach an impasse.

"It's very obvious that from our viewpoint this would be to Congressman Mills' advantage because he would be in a position to be a good alternative to the liberals on one side and the conservatives on the other," Walker said.

Walker said indications were that neither Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota, on one hand, nor Gov. George Wallace of Alabama, on the other, would win the nomination. He also said it appeared that Sen. Edmund Muskie of Maine was now out of the picture.

"So, where do you go?" Walker asked. "I think our game plan has been pretty well on target all the way so that, in event we come into the convention with this situation continuing to develop as it has, Mr. Mills would be in very good position because he is generally acceptable to both elements."

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota "bothers" him, Walker said, because the former vice president would be acceptable to both if he makes a strong move.

Mills has not waged an active campaign in the South, but has chosen instead to try to prove his strength where no one would expect him to have strength, Walker said.

"If we had our druthers, we would not do anything at all in the South because it is very apparent that he has rapport in the South," he said.

This is the reason the congressman has chosen not to campaign actively in Tennessee, despite the hopes of that state's Democrats that he would, Walker said.

At the moment, the Mills campaign forces are concentrating on the Massachusetts and Rhode Island primaries. Walker declined to speculate on whether the congressman would enter any other states but said it would be interesting if Mills chose to enter the New York primary.

Walker said Mills' showing so far pleased him. He disagreed that the 5.3 per cent write-in vote for Mills in New Hampshire was a poor effort.

He said Mills' candidacy was hurt because of the difficulty of writing in the congressman's name on voting machines used in three major areas of New Hampshire. But he said Mills received 11 per cent of the vote in Manchester, the state's largest city, and this was a "great" showing.

Walker discounted reports that the Mills campaign spent huge sums in New Hampshire. His estimate of the amount of money spent for advertising on radio and television and in newspapers was $120,000.

Auto Repair Bill Is Stripped Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — House backers of better-built cars have driven a stripped-down auto-repair bill out of a subcommittee after some delicate maneuvering.

In a move aimed at saving consumers billions of dollars in car-body-repair costs, advocates accepted a compromise version of a federal standards-setting bill Tuesday and said they feel certain it will be taken to the House floor soon.

The bill, which emerged from the commerce and finance subcommittee without dissent, is fashioned around a bumper-standards plan intended to provide protection for cars in low-speed crashes. The standards probably will focus on cutting damages from a crash at 5 miles per hour.

A more comprehensive version passed by the Senate 89 to 4 last November requires federal standards covering the entire vehicle to make cars more resistant to crash damage and less expensive to repair.

The House bill now faces a test in the Commerce Committee, which refused to accept the subcommittee's earlier version.

Permission to Borrow $1.3

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The North Arkansas Electric Cooperative, Inc., of Salem applied to the state Public Service Commission Tuesday for permission to borrow $1.3 million from the federal Rural Electrification Administration.

The cooperative said the loan, which is to be concurrent with a $146,000 loan from the National Rural Utilities Cooperative Finance Corp., would be used for improvements to its system and to repay funds already spent for improvements.

General Telephone Co. of the Southwest applied to the PSC for authority to issue $22,450 in first-mortgage bonds to exchange for bonds issued by the Southwestern States Telephone Co.

General Telephone said that it assumed the obligation for the Southwestern States bonds by merger and wanted to refinance the bonds.

Says Bumpers Should Show Leadership

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers said Tuesday the governor "has a duty to exercise some leadership" in party matters, and said he was actively supporting Charles Ward of Conway for Democratic national committeeman from Arkansas.

Ward said he has enough commitments to indicate he will be successful in gaining the position.

Jim Blair of Springdale was considered to be Ward's major opponent, but Blair said Tuesday he had withdrawn as a candidate at the urging of Bumpers.

Earlier this week, Roger Mears of Little Rock, chairman of the Pulaski County Democratic Committee, sent a letter to all state committee members in the 2nd Congressional District, saying Ward was not acceptable as national committeeman.

The letter said that Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., "would prefer that the new national committeeman from Arkansas be selected from the 2nd Congressional District—preferably, an outstanding attorney from the district."

Ward resides in the 2nd District but is not a lawyer.

Bumpers said he had not seen Mears' letter. The governor said, however, he had talked to Mills and that Ward was "totally acceptable" to Mills.

Ward, who has been active in Mills' bid for the Democratic presidential nomination, said he had discussed Mears' letter with Mills and while "the letter

Unknown Candidate Says Miracles Are Possible

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard B. Kay says he believes in miracles and he believes a miracle could make him president of the United States. His big hurdle, he says, is fighting the personality cult that's built up around George C. Wallace.

"It's a tough nut to crack," the third-party candidate says. "I'm not going out with ax handle or stand in a schoolroom door. I'm not going to resort to gimmickery."

By his own admission, Kay is the least-known, worst-financed candidate for president in 1972. He has picked up the American Party banner where Wallace dropped it—but he's having a hard time getting anybody to see the banner or look at its carrier.

As an example, Kay called a news conference in a Washington hotel Tuesday.

Only one reporter showed up. "I have run into small pockets of people who'd rather have me than George Wallace," he says. "They recognize that if you haven't got a national personality you're handicapped."

Kay, 53, is a lawyer in Cleveland. He is tall, well-dressed, and a bachelor. He ran two years ago as the Ohio American Party candidate for the Senate, lost and signed on without pay as one of the lawyers for Lt. William L. Calley Jr., at the My Lai murder trial.

Last December, long before Wallace announced he would run as a Democrat, Kay said he would seek the American Party's nomination to keep the third party alive. So far, he says, he's the only candidate.

Kay has some definite ideas on what the country ought to do. One is to get back on the gold standard by posting an enormous increase in the price of gold—enough to cover the cost of mining.

"If we raise the price of gold to $57 an ounce, we could open the mines. The national treasury can start buying gold to increase the supply that backs our dollars. This will also cause people who speculated in gold to sell gold back to the United States, which will give them dollars. And the only thing they can do with dollars is to buy American goods and get our balance of trade back into line. This makes it simple."

One way to get the welfare rolls down, he says, is by making government aid too uncomfortable. "I don't believe a person who is on relief should have the right to drive an automobile."

The benefits of taking away welfare recipients' automobiles would be many, Kay says. "Instead of their using the welfare money for repairs, gas and oil, they would be using it to buy the things the aid was meant for."

Kay asked Treasury Secretary John B. Connally for Secret Service protection accorded to candidates but was turned down because he didn't register 5 per cent in the Harris and Gallup polls.

"How could I get 5 per cent when the polls don't even include me in their interviews," he said.

More Indictments Seen

WASHINGTON, Pa. (AP) — The plea of guilty entered by Annette Gilly to charges of murder in the slaying of the Yablonski family is expected to be a prelude to further indictments in the case.

The blonde former Cleveland, Ohio, housewife turned state's evidence Tuesday in exchange for a prosecution promise that it will not seek the death penalty against her.

In a crowded Washington County courtroom lined with 20 policemen, the 31-year-old Mrs. Gilly pleaded guilty to three counts of murder and one of conspiracy stemming from the December 1969 slaying of Joseph A. "Jock" Yablonski, his wife and daughter.

The three were found shot to death in their nearby Clarks-ville home on New Year's Eve 1969, only three weeks after the fiery United Mine Workers reformer had unsuccessfully challenged W.A. "Tony" Boyle for the presidency of the UMW.

During the 25-minute proceeding Tuesday, Mrs. Gilly also told of signing a 22-page statement detailing her knowledge of the murders to the FBI.

Sources close to the probe say the statement will be presented to a federal grand jury in Pittsburgh to support a request for more indictments.

Mrs. Gilly, who had previously pleaded innocent, was one of five persons arrested in the case.

Others included her husband, Paul, 38, already convicted and sentenced to death, and her father, Silous Huddleston, 65, a former UMW official in LaFollette, Tenn.

Huddleston will go on trial next week, and the prosecution says his daughter will be available to testify against him.

Also charged were Claude Vealey, 28, who pleaded guilty and turned state's evidence, and Aubran "Buddy" Martin, 23, who was convicted and sentenced to death.

After Mrs. Gilly's plea, Judge Charles Sweet explained to her that a three-judge court would be empaneled to determine the degree of her guilt and set the penalty.

Searcy Votes Bond Issue

MARSHALL, Ark. (AP) — Searcy County voters apparently approved a $150,000 Act 9 bond issue Tuesday to finance enlargement of the Flint Rock Shirt Co. here.

With 14 of 22 precincts reported, the vote was 891 for to 17 against.

Gallagher Says Charges "Political Indictment"

By CHRIS CONNELL
Associated Press Writer
NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — New Jersey Congressman Cornelius E. Gallagher says federal charges of perjury and conspiracy against him are "a political indictment ... all part of a campaign to destroy me politically, physically, mentally and financially."

The 51-year-old seven-term Democratic representative from Bayonne also is charged with federal income tax evasion.

The indictment was brought Friday by a federal grand jury and announced Tuesday by U.S. Attorney for New Jersey Herbert J. Stern. It charges Gallagher with four counts of perjury, one of conspiracy and two of income tax evasion.

At a news conference in Washington after the indictments were announced, Gallagher said he became a political target after pushing legislation to curb government intrusion into individual privacy.

Gallagher is accused of conspiring with two former Jersey City officials, who were not indicted, to conceal income of theirs in excess of $326,000.

The two unindicted coconspirators, former Jersey City Mayor Thomas J. Whelan and former City Council President Thomas M. Flaherty, are serving 15-year jail terms at Lewisburg, Pa., Penitentiary for extorting money from contractors dealing with Jersey City.

Gallagher is alleged to have bought under fictitious names $373,000 worth of municipal bonds with $326,698 provided by Whelan and Flaherty, and more than $495,000 worth of bonds for himself.

He is charged with four counts of perjury for allegedly lying to a grand jury about the bond purchases by claiming they were not made for his own benefit.

The two income tax counts charge that Gallagher failed to report a total of more than $186,000 in income during the years 1966 and 1967, on which $102,228 in taxes are due.

ton found that, in general:

—Police departments are turning away qualified women, but many departments are having trouble recruiting men.

—Women are sometimes required to have more education than men in order to qualify for police work.

—Women who have been hired as police officers are not used to their full potential. In most cities, they are still kept out of traffic, patrol and detective work.

—In some cities, women aren't allowed to take exams which could qualify them for supervisory jobs.

—Women are sometimes barred from job training courses, such as physical defense, then later told they aren't qualified for positions that require this kind of training.

"Personally, I've become really aware of what discrimination means. People's attitudes about what women can and can't do are irrational, which is the nicest way of putting it," says Mrs. Milton.

However, she said she has also found encouraging signs.

In several cities—among them Peoria, Ill., Indianapolis Ind., and Miami—police departments are sending women out on a regular patrol beat. Washington, D.C., is recruiting an experimental patrol force of some 100 women.

One of the best reasons for using women more extensively in police work is because it will benefit the police department and the community at large, says Mrs. Milton, whose book "Women and Policing" will be published next month.

She listed among these benefits:

—Police departments would have twice as many qualified candidates to choose from.

—Police service could be improved by attracting the best qualified officers, particularly in terms of education and awareness.

Mrs. Milton says that women now make up less than one per cent of the country's police force.

Osteopath Treats Chief Executive

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's personal physician says the chief executive receives a muscle relaxant treatment from an osteopath about twice a month.

Dr. Walter R. Tkach emphasized Tuesday that the treatment was merely for muscle relaxation, that the President has no backache or other skeletal trouble.

The President does not like a massage as a muscle-relaxant, so the osteopathic manipulative technique is used instead, Tkach said. He identified the osteopath involved as Dr. W. Kenneth Riland of New York.

Rephan's Started in Hope 50 Years Ago

April, 1972, marks the beginning of Rephan's 50th year in business in Arkansas. The statewide chain is celebrating the event with a full year of sales, special values and storewide promotions to bring Rephan customers exceptional values in every department.

Bernard Rephan, president of the chain, recalled the humble beginning of the group, which was founded by his father, Ed. I. Rephan, in 1922 in Hope, Ark. The success of this initial venture gave Mr. Rephan an abiding faith in the future of Arkansas, and he decided to secure additional outlets throughout the state. His faith and tireless efforts were well rewarded, for the network now includes sixteen stores located in the following communities: Hope, Malvern, Russellville, Fayetteville, Corning, Mena, DeQueen, Ashdown, Prescott, DeWitt, Brinkley, Pine Bluff, and Hot Springs.

According to Odas Hunnicutt, general merchandise manager, Rephan management has spent many months of planning and preparation for this celebration of the group's 50th anniversary. Suppliers from New York to California cooperated by offering special prices on merchandise so that Rephan's could offer their customers and friends first-quality, seasonal merchandise at exceptionally low prices.

"It has been our custom," explained Ray Pearce, supervisor of the group, "to mark each year with an Anniversary Sale. However, our 'Golden Anniversary Sale' is a gigantic, all-out effort and it will last for one full year. It's our way of saying, 'Thank you' to our faithful customers and of acquainting new customers with our service and courtesy."

Mr. Rephan is enthusiastic about the future of Arkansas and the continued success of the Rephan group. "We are most grateful," he explained, "to our co-workers whose efforts and loyalty have made our success possible." They are responsible for carrying out management's policy of giving every customer old-fashioned, interested service.

Mrs. Alice Walters, local manager, extends a welcome to come and visit during the great 50th year celebration.

2,500 Snake Species, Only Four Poisonous

Of some 2,500 species of snakes in the United States, only four—rattlesnakes, cottonmouths, copperheads, and coral snakes—are poisonous or harmful to man. Most people view all snakes as evil or dangerous and to be avoided or killed.

It is natural for people to want to keep snakes away from the home because children and many adults cannot distinguish between poisonous and non-poisonous snakes, says Calvin J. Caldwell, County Extension Agent.

In rural and in many urban areas and suburban areas, snakes can be found in yards and around buildings in late spring and during the summer. A good way to keep the infestation low is to keep yards, playgrounds, and areas around buildings clean so there is no grass, weeds, or piles of material for snakes to use.

Most snakes will avoid open and clean areas because there is no source of food, and they cannot stand direct, hot sunlight for long periods of time.

Another way to keep snake populations low is to eliminate places of hibernation around the home or farm by spraying under houses, out-buildings, and in barns with any of the chemicals recommended for control of termites, Mr. Caldwell said.

Some "snake kill" materials have been sold for the past 2 or 3 years in areas around Arkansas. The material is not registered for use in Arkansas and to our knowledge has not proven to be effective. There are some chemicals that will serve to repel snakes to a degree if properly used. They are heptachlor granules and chlordane. Heptachlor should be applied at the rate of 20 pounds of chemical per acre. This will also repel and control ticks, chiggers, and moles in the area where it is used.

Chlordane is quite effective if sprayed or dusted over the lawn, around foundations of houses, barns, and other buildings. Chlordane should be used every 4 to 6 weeks throughout the summer if snakes are a persistent problem. It should be used at the rate of one-fourth pound of active ingredient per 1,000 square feet or about 10 pounds per acre. One-half pound of 50 per cent wettable powder or one-half pint of 45 per cent emulsifiable concentrate will treat an area the same size. Chlordane will also aid in controlling or repelling ticks, chiggers, and moles.

Always follow recommendations listed on the container and take precautions suggested. Wet the chemical application down for effectiveness, and keep children and pets away until is thoroughly dry.

Perhaps the best approach to keeping snakes away is to keep all areas clean, eliminate possible "dens" and hibernation areas, keep fence rows around the house and yard clean, and destroy sources of food, Mr. Caldwell said.

This is a picture of the largest Regal Python on exhibition by the Fishers Bros. Circus which the Phi Beta Lambda Chapter is sponsoring in Hope on the 16 day of April at the Fair Park showgrounds for one performance at 2:30 p.m.

Tickets are on sale by members at the low price of $1.00 to every one when bought from a member. If purchased at circus ticket office they are $1.00 for children and $1.50 for adults and all tickets are good for any seats in the big top as the Fishers Bros. Circus does not have reserved seats.

Besides Conga who is over 20 feet long and weighs over 200 lbs. you will see a very good circus performance with elephant acts, trapeze, jugglers, clowns, balancing acts, something to entertain and please everyone.

Get your tickets in advance from the sponsor. Do this for three very good reasons. One you save money on the adult tickets; two, you don't have to stand in line at the ticket office, and last, but not least, you help the sponsor make and keep more money as they get a much larger percentage from the advance sale than they do at the door so if you buy your tickets from them in advance you put more money into the various projects that they do to help better your community.

Britist Labor Battles Common Market

By DONALD FORBES
Associated Press Writer
LONDON (AP) — The divided Labor party's members in the House of Commons met today to decide whether to back party leader Harold Wilson or the rebels against his tactics in fighting Britain's entry into the Common Market.

Led by Roy Jenkins, the deputy party leader, five top men in the party quit Wilson's shadow cabinet, another was replaced by Wilson after he said he would quit, and other resignations were expected.

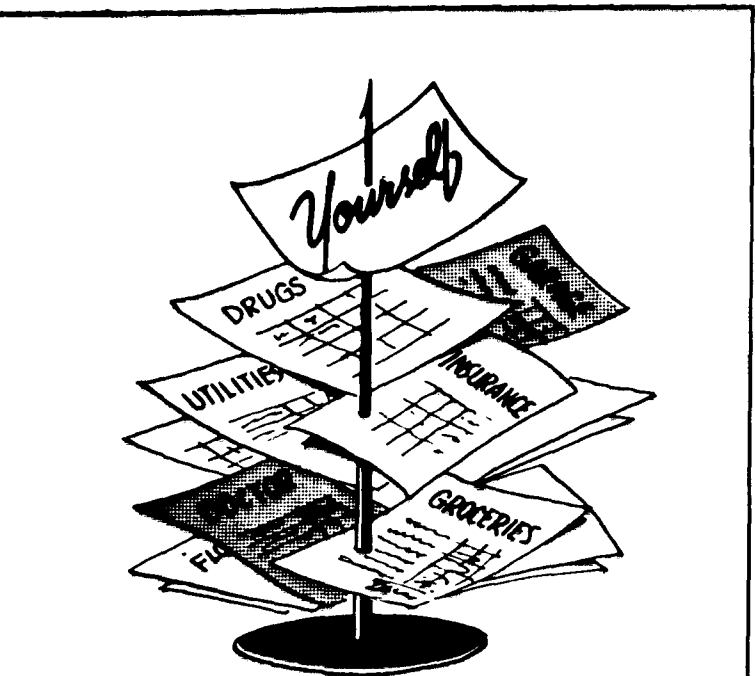

The rebels support Britain's entry into the European Economic Community. Their break came over Wilson's endorsement last week of a proposal for a national referendum on the Common Market issue.

Such a referendum is unheard of in the British political tradition, and Wilson's espousal of the proposal constituted an abrupt about-face.

In what has become a straight battle between the right and left wings of the opposition party, political insiders forecast a majority of the Laborite members of Parliament would vote in favor of making the referendum proposal official party policy.

The split is the most serious in the Labor party in 20 years and seriously threatens its future political prospects. For one thing, the departure of Jenkins and other moderates from the party command greatly lessens its appeal to the middle-of-the-road voters who decide elections in Britain.

The party row also greatly increases the chances for passage of the rest of the Conservative government's legislation to complete Britain's entry into the Common Market. Jenkins and his supporters now are expected to ignore party discipline and vote with the government or abstain.

Electric Institute Hears Moran

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The chairman of the state Public Service Commission suggested Tuesday that privately owned electric utilities consult with environmentalists on research programs for new methods of producing energy.

Pat Moran made the suggestion in a speech prepared for delivery at Austin, Tex., to a meeting of the Edison Electric Institute.

He said it was generally conceded that a stepped-up research program on more efficient ways to generate electricity was needed. Moran said the position of the privately owned electric utilities was that they could and should handle this research themselves, before the federal government stepped in.

Moran said he was in general agreement with the position of the utilities, but he also was aware that their proposal had been criticized by some environmentalists, who feared their research program would put heavy emphasis on "patching up" the technologies they presently used and less emphasis on searching out new options.

Gets $224,000 Headstart Grant

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Headstart grant of $224,000 has been approved for the Black River Development Corp. in Pocahontas, the office of Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said Tuesday.

The program will provide preschool training for 260 children from low-income families.

Prisoner Hangs Self in Cell

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Jerry W. Barber, 20, of Hot Springs hanged himself with his belt in a cell of the Hot Springs city jail, police said Tuesday.

Police Chief Joe Crain said Barber was placed in the cell Monday night after his arrest on a charge of driving while under the influence of intoxicants.

Crain said officers discovered Barber's body early Tuesday while bringing another prisoner to the cell area.

Tight Security on Nixon Visit to Canada

OTTAWA (AP) — Maximum security measures are planned during President Nixon's visit to Ottawa this weekend.

"It will be like the Kosygin and Tito visits. We don't want any incidents," said an officer of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police who had a hand in the strengthened protection put into effect after a young Hungarian emigre took a swipe at Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin in Ottawa last October.

Several leftist groups are planning demonstrations during Nixon's visit against various aspects of U.S. policy, including American domination of Canada's economy and U.S. participation in the Vietnam war. But few of the demonstrators are likely to get more than a glimpse of the President, and one of the bigger protests is scheduled for after he leaves Saturday.

The mounted police have checked private homes along the route Nixon will take from the airport to the city after his arrival Thursday. They asked how many persons resided in each house, how long they had been there, and crosschecked the replies with neighbors in at least one case.

Few details have been made public about the visit to make it difficult for incidents to be planned, and the President will be given a minimum of public exposure.

There will be no impromptu strolls down Parliament Hill like the one Kosygin was taking when he was set upon and no spontaneous movement. The President will travel in bulletproof limousines moving swiftly and sometimes along devious routes to political and social affairs which will be held behind closely guarded doors.

Like Kosygin, Nixon may be taken into the National Arts Centre through an underground garage entrance rather than the front door for a gala musical Friday night. Police will be scattered among the invitation-only guests in the 2,300-seat auditorium.

Wells Worth the Effort

The traditional means of water supply in Upper Volta, which sometimes finds women making a 20-mile round-trip balancing water jars on their heads, is on the way out. American Peace Corps Volunteers have constructed nearly 600 wells in Upper Volta since 1967 and are planning 200 more, thanks to a $60,000 equipment donation from the Oxford Committee for Famine Relief in England, which also made a special $4,400 donation for support of the well-digging Volunteers when a recent Peace Corps budget crisis appeared to imperil the future of the project. Two of the Peace Corpsmen working on the project are Benjamin Brown Jr. of Idaho Falls, Idaho, waiting for a bucket of cement, below left, and Peter R. Belauskas Jr. of Worcester, Mass., working with a villager at right.

Opening lead—♥Q

By Oswald & James Jacoby
 Every time we write about luck in team-of-four matches we remember a hand played in the finals of the 1935 or 1936 Spingold. It was a long match and coming into the last set of boards the Four Aces held a 2500-point lead. This was before the days of IMPs and the matches were played at total points.

Oswald Jacoby who sat South picked up one of the biggest hands he had ever held. He opened with a forcing two-spade bid. West stuck in a non-vulnerable nuisance call of five hearts and Dave Bruce, sitting North, raised to five spades.

Needless to say, Jacoby went right to seven. He expected to spread the hand and claim as soon as dummy hit the table, but the wrong dummy came down.

By this time you can see Jacoby's problem. He could discard three of dummy's diamonds on the top clubs but there was still a problem about the queen of diamonds. Jacoby wasn't worried about West holding three to the queen. Seven was surely going to be bid at the other table and all Jacoby wanted to do was to get the same result as his opposite number.

He won the heart opening; drew four rounds of trumps; cashed the clubs and the ace of diamonds; entered dummy with a fifth trump; led a second diamond and relaxed happily when East produced the queen. Jacoby has never said what he would have done if East had played a low diamond.

Morris Ellis of New York, who played the hand at the other table, has committed himself. He said, "I was going to toss a coin and see if you could outguess it."
